DIARY NOTES

DD/S

11 January 1972

Conversation with DD/I: Following advice from Mr. Blake I informed Mr. Proctor that [REDACTED] that the [REDACTED] office before tasking us will talk to the public printer (GPO) about printing the additional 4,000 copies of the [REDACTED] report which are for official distribution as well as those for public sale.

I also confirmed with Mr. Proctor that [REDACTED] should be in touch with Mr. Eisenbeiss regarding the cable dissemination study which was approved by the Director at his meeting yesterday. Mr. Proctor expressed his hope that we would not be bound by the single system, single office as a mandatory result. He also noted his interest in preserving the storage and retrieval benefit which MAD produces for CRS/DD/I. I assured him that we understood and agreed both points and recognized that indeed two separate systems could be the ultimate recommendation. (I subsequently advised [REDACTED] of the above.)
